MRS. MARY BAKER G. EDDY'S BODY
REPOSES IN TOMB NEAR BOSTON.

Funeral of Late Head of Christian Science Cult Is Remarkable for Simplicity and Absence of Any Eulogy. Prayer, Excerpts From Scripture and "Science and Health." With Psalm Reading at Cemetery Vault.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.)

BOSTON, Dec. 8.—Followers of Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, founder of the Christian Science church, gathered with her visible form today at a funeral service that was marked by simplicity and lack of ostentation, that yielded no expressions of sorrow, at least not by her followers; that was surrounded by no trappings or mourning, but was nevertheless sufficiently impressive to linger longer in the memory of one hundred and twenty persons who attended.

Among those in attendance were: Mrs. Eddy's son, George Washington Glover of Lead, R. D.; his daughter, Mary Baker Glover, and his son, George W. Jr., Dr. E. J. Foster of Waterbury, Vt.; Mrs. Eddy's adopted son, and other relatives, including Gen. Henry M. Baker of Bow, N. H.; Mrs. Eddy's cousin, John B. Baker of New York; another cousin, and his son, Rufus; Calvin A. Frye, Mrs. Laura Sergeant, Adam H. Dickey, Rev. I. C. Tomlinson, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Rathven and Mrs. W. W. Wilcox, member of Mrs. Eddy's household.

Judge Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the Mother Church, read the great part of the service prepared by himself, which consisted of selections from the Bible, co-religious passages from Mrs. Eddy's book "Science and Health," and a prayer. He was assisted by Mrs. Carroll Hoyt Powers, second reader, who rendered Mrs. Eddy's "Mother's Evening Prayer."

There was no eulogy, no sobbing except by the young granddaughter, Mary Baker Glover, whose face was covered by the only somber color in the house. The spacious parlors where the little gathering met for sixteen minutes in calm thought were bathed in sunlight while a spray of roses on the coffin and a bouquet of flowers as if for decorative effect were the only evidence of the customary mourning of flowers.

It seemed like one of Mrs. Eddy's metaphysical meetings of years gone by and on had to glance at the massive bronze casket, resting in the rose tinted alcove to realize the significance of the occasion.

There were two intervals of impressive silence. The first was at the beginning. The company had been seated and as the hour approached whispering gradually ceased. There was not a rustle to break the stillness until, at the close of the service.

to the big companies for 65 per cent. of the price the big companies receive for it at sidewater.

The government contended the independent were forced into making these contracts because there was no other way to get their coal to market. It the big companies chose to discriminate against them in the matter of cars and rates.

Judge Gray, in taking up the matter of the 65 per cent. contracts, concludes they are not a violation of interstate commerce.

Clearly Intricate.

"These contracts," Judge Gray says, "were clearly intricate and not interstate, in their character. They were complete when the coal was delivered at the mine, because the buyer, though did not control or affect in any way, and incidentally, interstate commerce; much less did they suppress or restrain such commerce."

Eighteen carriages followed the hearse across the snow-clad hills to Mount Auburn Cemetery in Watertown, Mass., where the open doors of the receiving tomb were closed.

The service of the day by reading the Twenty-third Psalm, and pronouncing a benediction the last verse of the Psalm. The coffin was slipped into its niche, the door was shut and sealed and a guard of protection, the guard has access to the telephone which the directors of the church have placed temporarily in the vault.

RACE TRACK FUNDS.

"An 'uncertain man'."

"I went and borrowed the cash from a man at the track and gave it to him."

Burke is now in Havana. Evans did not know who he was. "Never mind him—when he would be back."

Burke, he added, "was a very uncertain man."

Attorney Kresel asked Evans to note that on May 12, 1908, he deposited $50,000 with the Mutual Bank, and asked what it was for and where it came from.

"I don't know," replied the witness, after some pausing.

"Isn't it a fact that this $50,000 was collected as a result of a special assessment?"

"Not as far as I know."

The witness said he would try to find out. He admitted that the day after the $50,000 was deposited, he took out a deposit slip for $15,000 for counsel fees.

Evans admitted payments of $12,200 to other attorneys, but said this was not for fighting the race-track bills, but to look after members of the association who might be arrested.

BORROWED FROM BANK.

It was made to appear from payments of loans to the Mutual Bank that in 1908 the bookmakers' association borrowed about $19,500 in two loans, one of $12,200 and one of $7,300, one of $12,200 and one of $7,300.

It was shown that $900 was paid to several members late in 1908 by the association. Evans said this was a pro-rata share paid them. The witness said he never paid directly or indirectly, any money to fight anti-race-track legislation or to influence any.

STOMACH MISERY.

JUST VANISHES

Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn and Dyspepsia Co.

There is not a single reader of The Times who suffers from any form of stomach trouble who can afford to leave Diapiesan untried. There is no other preparation which gives such prompt and lasting relief.

As there is often some one in your family who suffers from an attack of indigestion or some form of stomach trouble, why don't you keep some Diapiesan in the house handy?

This harmless blessing will digest anything you can eat without the slightest discomfort, and overcome a sour, gassy stomach five minutes after. Tell your pharmacist to let you read the formula, plainly printed on these 50-cent cans of Diapiesan, then you will readily see why it makes indigestion, Sour Stomach, Heartburn and other distress go in five minutes, and relieves at once such miseries as Belching of Gas, Eructations of acid, undigested food, Nausea, Headaches, Distress, Constipation and other stomach disorders.

Some folks have tried so long to find relief from indigestion and dyspepsia or an out-of-order stomach with the common, every-day cures advertised in the papers, and they have found nothing that they have something else wrong, or believe there is a case of Nervousness, Gastritis, Catarrh of the Stomach or Cancer.

This, no doubt, is a serious mistake. Your trouble is, what you eat does not digest. Instead, it ferments and sours, turns to acid, Gas and Stomach pain, which prey in the digestive tract and intestine, and besides, poisons the blood with poisonous odors.

A hearty appetite, with thorough digestion, and without the slightest discomfort or misery of the Stomach, is waiting for you as soon as you decide to try Diapiesan.

Burke to attend the little one, as it was ill. Dr. Burke failed to attend the child.

The next morning Lucia went to the sanitarium dining room, where Dr. Burke was eating his breakfast.

"You have time to see everybody here, except your own child," said Lucia, as she thrust the child into the physician's arms.

Mrs. Burke, Dr. Deenan and his wife, and Alfred Burke, a brother of the doctor, and his wife, were in the room.

Later she accused him again of being the child's father and called him a coward for fearing to face the consequences of his own acts.

The witness told of the efforts of Dr. Burke to prevent her from leaving the sanitarium and of keeping her there with the promise that he would provide her money with which to live comfortably elsewhere.

She told of the questions Dr. Burke asked her regarding the location of her baby's crib in her room house the day before the dynamite was used in an alleged attempt to kill both her and her child.

In his treatment of her after the explosion, the witness stated Dr. Burke took his penknife and scraped out the wound on her arm and used a powder on the wounds. It was announced by Dr. Burke's attorney in his opening statement that it would be shown that Dr. Burke attempted to poison Lucia after the dynamite explosion.

The witness said the arm became worse until District Attorney Lee took a sample of the powder used on the arm, after which Dr. Burke caused using that medicine.

Lucia testified Dr. Burke had been her only man friend with whom she had at all been intimate. She denied she had ever threatened to kill herself. Dr. Burke had reported or said that she had talked of using dynamite.

FIRST AMATEUR CARD PUT ON BY MANAGER M'CAREY

THE fight card to be put on at Naud Junction is to be the first amateur boxing event ever scheduled for McCarney's fight arena. There are to be thirty-six rounds of boxing if all of the boys on the open-

Jack Hubbs and Billy Emrich, four rounds.
Ad Corey and Victor Barwante, four rounds.
Freddie Schuaro and Kid Fowler, four rounds.

It is hard to pick favorites as all of the boys that have signed for the bouts, with the exception of the junior welter, have not been seen here in action. All of the lads are exceedingly anxious to make a good showing and the majority of the spectators at the junction of the main highway and the levee, every day going to it with the militia.

Many of the fans are picking Rose and Walsh to put up the best fight of the season. Rose has been through a try-out at the pavilion and has always shown that he has considerable class. Walsh is a young blacksmith and it is well known that he is a real puncher. He is a real puncher who will keep Walsh guessing if he ever lands it on a vital spot. If he does, he will be a real puncher, but because of his endurance and his ability to hit a stiff blow it is likely that his opponent will not have much chance of winning. He is a real puncher who will keep Walsh guessing if he ever lands it on a vital spot. If he does, he will be a real puncher, but because of his endurance and his ability to hit a stiff blow it is likely that his opponent will not have much chance of winning.

Hutton, the other center who has appeared at the pavilion, is to go six rounds with Jack Ward. Ward is a new one as far as the local fight fans are concerned, but a few of them that have seen him both men are giving him claim that Ward will give Hutton about all the rough work that he can stand. To go after his man with all his steam on tap.

Tom Ward:

Eddie Cere and Fred Barrett, six rounds.

Tony Rose and Jack Walsh, six rounds.

Berry Hutton and Jack Ward, six rounds.

Anderson and George Silver, six rounds.

BIKE RIDERS THIN OUT IN HARD SIX-DAY GRIND.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Dec. 8.—Eight teams, one of them the new Rutti-Clarke combination, remained in the six-day bicycle race tonight. At the end of the eighth day, there were two Root-Roman, Mitten-Thomsen, Fogler-Hill, Collins-Dreibach, Hehr-Goulet, 749 miles, 2 laps; Cameron-Halstead, 748 miles, 17 laps; Rutti-Clarke, 747 miles, 1 lap.

The record for the sixty-four hours in 1933, made by Walthour and Collett, was broken by Ritt and Stolt.

Ritt and Clarke combined directly after the withdrawal of Walthour and Collett, and MacFarland joined them this afternoon. Ritt and Stolt at the same time. The record was broken by MacFarland and Clarke one lap behind. The new team was required to make the last lap of the race.

At the end of the evening the lowest score of the evening was made by Ritt and Stolt. The record for the sixty-four hours in 1933, made by Walthour and Collett, was broken by Ritt and Stolt.

FLANDERS RECORD RUN.

MISS SYBLE GEARY, assistant secretary of the Automobile Club of Southern California, has promised to ride as observer on the leaders this afternoon. This will be the first time that a woman has taken such an active part in a Shetler's car is likely to lose its laurels.

H. Adams is the star of the record run thus far. He has handled the car carefully and has shown himself an expert engineer. The motor, nursed by the Flanders man, purrs as sweetly old record. Miss Geary is a fearless rider who knows a motor-car and is adventurous enough to make the ride to the beach a real beach-riding adventure. She is out after a fast mileage and will ride over the boulevards and along the rough roads. She is a fast driver and can run a mile in 4:30. Miss Geary complained of illness. Miss Geary complained to take the tired man's to fill one observer's shift. The spectators take the observer's seat at 6 o'clock and will ask for no quarter. The Flinders can be driven as fast as the observer can see to go. Miss Grierly is not afraid. The man on the day run is ready to quit. The strain has proved too much for the Flinders.

The Flinders is to be kept everlasting.

SECH AN INSULT—WHAT?
NEW YORK, Dec. 4.—Suit was begun in the Supreme Court in Brooklyn today by Frank Schmidt, a Brooklyn attorney, to force the New York State Comptroller of the Treasury to furnish him a copy of the annual report of the Comptroller for the year 1937. Schmidt wants the report, he says, to show that the Comptroller has not been truthful in his statements to the Legislature and the public regarding the State's financial condition.

and is turning off a mileage that would give it the Pacific Coast record for its performance thus far. The motor was hitting perfectly last night and having accidents. Leon S. Matheson, who was in the car, was a spectator, the ball disappeared, Matheson claiming that Schmidt took it as a souvenir. Schmidt denied having taken the ball but was arrested and taken to the station.

ROUGH RIDERS PUT TO TEST.

Tryouts for Mounted Squad Full of Action.

Two Dozen Patrolmen Up, None Falls Down.

Wild Arizona Bronco Makes Exciting Break.

Agricultural Park was the scene yesterday afternoon of a small-sized wild west show, when twenty-four brassy members of the police department roped moving and stable objects, loped their horses madly about the arena and put them through many tricks while competing for places on the recently created mounted squad. Capt. Lehnhausen was master of ceremonies, and was assisted in judging the various candidates by Detective Louis Rico, Dr. F. C. Shurtliff and J. S. Hendrickson.

Saunders, a champion rope thrower.

Los Angeles Patrolmen as Rope Throwers and "Bronco Busters." Putting them to the test yesterday afternoon in Agricultural Park with the object of selecting the best timber for the new mounted squad.

The men were divided into details of four, and were drilled in the various phases of the work mapped out by Capt. Lehnhausen for members of the mounted squad. For two hours they put their steeds through the paces, and in only one instance did the slightest kind of an accident occur.

This was when Patrolman A. A. Green aroused the bronco ancestry of Dynamite, an Arizona horse, alleged in holy terms by its one-time owner to be "sure enough city broke."

The animal reared and plunged when Green attempted to slip the steel between its teeth. For a moment Green tumbled the sweetest words in his repertoire on the brute, then started to fight him at his own game.

This the horse delighted in, for with a whirl he dashed off the field with the amply proportioned Green dangling at the end of a neck-rope.

In vain Green endeavored to get a hitch over his knee, and sink his heels into the surr. But his knees never reached the proper angle and the ground-surface was too hard for his toes. And thus the race continued with Green on the loose end.

RICO TO RESCUE.

Then Detective Louis Rico, who was mounted on a beautiful silk-coated black steed, dashed after the man and horse. Fifty yards away he caught up with them and, while going at top speed, snatched the rope from Green, took a few hitches about the horn of his saddle, and with a movement of the lines, sat the vagrant Dynamite on his haunches. It was a rare piece of horsemanship, and was loudly applauded by the several hundred persons present.

Rather sheepishly Green returned to the judges' stand, carrying his empty bridle across his arm. But instead of receiving a verbal chastisement for his part in the unlucky affair, he was warmly commended by Capt. Lehnhausen and the judges for his pluck in sticking to the unruly horse. The animal was then relegated to the stables, and another more gentle, and devoid of the temper shown by its predecessor substituted.

The stunts as prepared by Capt. Lehnhausen included every phase of horsemanship, and were based upon the United States Cavalry examinations. The men were first required to explain the various parts of the saddle, and other horse equipment: saddle, the horse, exercise of the greatest care about the blanket and the cinches. A man was given a discredit for fighting a horse without provocation, or for fighting a horse without provocation, or for fighting a horse without provocation.

PROF. BEFORE LINE.

After the saddling exercise had been accomplished the men mounted at a given signal, and were away for a wild dash across the stubble. A sharp cloud of dust almost covering the riders and horses marked the turning point, and with a whirl they were on the return. Toward a chalk line stretched across one portion of the field the men rode, each straight in his saddle, reins in his left hand and his right free for emergencies. The horsemen, their steeds flashing in the afternoon sun, and their blue uniforms and stately helmets making them creatures apart from their surroundings, presented a thrilling picture of action and motion in their rhythmic movements.

ADD TWO FLOORS FOR CLICKS.

TELEGRAPH COMPANY EXPANDS ITS HOUSING.

Stories in Building Occupied by Western Union to Be Increased From Three to Five—Telephone House a New Feature Designed to Improve the Service.

A contract was signed yesterday for the construction of two additional floors on the three-story building at Nos. 605-610 South Spring street, to be completed within sixty days. The building was put up for the Western Union Telegraph Company and was occupied May 1, last. The two new stories will also be occupied by the telegraph company.

Under the recent reorganization, made to expand and improve its service, the telegraph company has made many changes, the most important of which was from the unit system to a three-column organization. The company was divided into divisions.

Under the new system, one management controlled all departments of service of the company there are now three divisions, commercial, traffic and plant, hence the dual made for the two additional stories. In the new five-story building—occupied entirely by the telegraph company—the basement floor will be used for records and storage. On the first floor will be the manager's office and the delivery department, including a room for messengers, and the public room for the receiving of messages.

Half of the second floor will be occupied by the offices of the commercial superintendent and agent and their respective staffs. The rear half will be taken by the affiliated messenger service and the signal department. The entire third floor will be used for the telegraph or operating room. On the fourth floor will be the offices of the district traffic superintendent, equipment and line supervisors for the district.

The fifth floor will be taken up with a new feature designed to improve the service. It will be fitted up as a telephone room where messages from suburban offices can be received by telephone after the local offices are closed. The arrangement, when perfected, will practically afford a twenty-four-hour service, the telephone being available for use where there are no offices or for any reason the offices are closed.

WANTS BROTHER LOCATED.

The Postmaster received a letter, yesterday, requesting him to notify Elmer Nelson, of this city, that his brother, Henry, is dying in Pueblo, Colo., and desires to have him communicate with him.

FAMILY BOSS NEEDS CARE.

Pleads "Guilty" in Order to Start Milking.

Santa Ana Blacksmith Quakes in Courtroom.

Sends Abusive Postal Card Through Mails.

Rather than take a chance on spoiling a good cow, which needed strong hands to milk her, Frank Thompson, a Santa Ana blacksmith, pleaded guilty in the United States District Court to a charge of having intimated the mails and paid his fine, Wednesday evening.

Thompson had a grievance against T. W. Wilson, a former Sheriff residing at Sunnyside, and sought to relieve the fevered condition of his mind by way of the postal service. He directed a postal card to Wilson, calling him, among other things, "a liar and a sneak thief."

Wilson resented the fact that the complimentary remarks had been addressed to him so openly and took up the case with the Federal officials. The attorneys readily saw that the Federal statutes restricting the matter which may be transmitted by postcard, had been violated and a warrant for Thompson's arrest was issued by the United States commissioner.

The blacksmith was badly frightened, having never before been in the toils of the law. He was arrested shortly before milking time and could not forget that his "bosses" needed his attention. He thought that he should be permitted to go without bail to attend to the cow, but the authorities demanded a bond before he should be released.

After ascertaining the fact that his punishment would probably be a light fine he says he thought it would be cheaper to plead guilty.

He was permitted to go before Judge Welborn, who assessed him $25 and cautioned him against future offenses of the mail. He paid the fine and hurried home to his fift cow.

LOVER WANTS HIS COIN BACK.

PUZZLED WOMAN SEEKS ADVICE OF DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

She Declares Her Former Sweetheart Made Her His Bank Depository in Order to Save Money for Their Prospective Home After Marriage.

What portion of $250, said to have been intrusted by T. J. Harris to his former fiancee, Miss Agnes Christmas, No. 2515 "oulder street," should be returned, now that his love has cooled, this question was asked Deputy District Attorney Blair yesterday, by the "neatly-dressed" woman, after she had passed him in the street. Harris threatened, she declares, that unless she returned to him the $250 he would either obtain a complaint for embezzlement, or file a civil action against her.

As a result Miss Christmas was in anything but a holiday mood. Though it was his hope, Miss Christmas said, to give him back his money, she was faced with a peculiar situation. Her former lover, she feared to disclose the secret that burned flames in her heart and she also feared the threatened disgrace of arrest and confinement in jail. And finally she decided to take the District Attorney into her confidence.

According to her story she was engaged to Harris several months ago. He was the most ardent of wooers, said she, and on nights when the moon shined at the top of the angle he would paint beautiful pictures of a cozy bungalow, ivy-covered and inviting and a fond wife awaiting his homecoming.

It was his hope, Miss Christmas said, to buy a home before they were married, and for that reason he delegated to her the management of the money. Every week he added to the sacred funds that would in the end purchase the domestic goal.

But like many matrimonial theories of the bubble kind, something pricked a hole in it, and all the good intentions escaped into thin air. Some day it was the charms, and flashing eyes of another woman that rent the bubble, and with it came his demand for the $250.

Miss Christmas admits she was as moveable as an iceberg. She refused to give him back his money, claiming that in itself it was a miserable return for the ment. I anguish that his refusal to marry her caused him to turn the whole affair before the public. So a called upon, the District Attorney for advice.

He told her that in his estimation she had a perfect right to hold the money that had been intrusted to her for the community purpose. Blair notified his conferees, so as to prevent Harris from obtaining a complaint unknown to him.

STEAKS AND HIGH STAKES.

Lawyer and Collection Agent Gamble for Both, According to Developments in Trial of Suit on Note.

That Attorney Chester Smith and C. Anderson, proprietor of a collection agency, who formerly occupied the same suite in the International Bank Building, gamble on paper with each other like sports millionaires developed during a suit of Anderson against the lawyer in Justice Pierce's court, yesterday.

Anderson sued Smith on a note for $250 and the latter defended on the ground that it was given to settle a gambling debt. He asserted that he had held many of Anderson's notes and that they had each agreed that all of the papers should be destroyed. He said he tore up the instruments which he had, and supposed Anderson had done the same.

Anderson said the note was executed according to a legitimate business deal and that he had never gambled with Smith except for an occasional beef-steak.

A. J. Nephew, who admitted he bought half of Smith's library and furniture while he had the idea of studying law, was the star witness for the defendant.

He said Anderson had told him "I own Chester Smith," and had shown him notes aggregating thousands of dollars to back up his assertion. Smith declared that he and the collection agency and played pool for large sums, often starting in the evening at $500 a game and ending up early the next morning with several thousand dollars as the stake.

He said it had finally been agreed between them that the paper which each had issued was without value and that it should be destroyed. He and Anderson had a "falling out" and he was surprised when suit was brought. He asserted that he had $2500 worth of property and thought it had been unjustly taken up.

TINY SONGSTER WOMEN STUDY.

THEY ADMIT GLOWING INTEREST IN THINGS BIRD.

In Shady Dells of the Arroyo Seco These Fair Students Will Wander, Inspecting All Sorts of Feathered Creatures in a Backless Disregard of Possible Lurking Serpents.

Twenty society women of Los Angeles will take to the fields this afternoon to study the skins of California birds. At least the skins of birds will be the subject for the consideration of the local branch of the Audubon Society, which meets at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. William B. Myers, 285 945 Avenue 38. From the home of Mrs. Myers the ladies will go down into Arroyo Seco, in which Miss Mary Miller and other women bird experts have counted eighty-seven varieties of feathered creatures, not including those painted by Prof. Walter Julian's art pupils.

That a man is an adult atom with clothes on his skin and that a bird is a juvenile atom with feathers instead of clothes, is something like the position which the many bird-enthusiasts of the city take, and this position has inspired a deep study of the creatures with wings. Mrs. Myers, head of the Los Angeles branch, is also secretary of the State Audubon Society and has been the active friend of birds for many years. Before the present branch was organized an interesting group of women met with her regularly for many years to study their hobby.

Through Mrs. Miller, who is a daughter of Mrs. Olive Thorne Miller, author of several books on birds of the East, Miss Gretchen Libby became interested in the study and she now occupies the unique position of "State Superintendent of Birds" in California. That is not exactly her official title, but it is a fact that she resigned a good position as school teacher in San Bernardino county to take a place created and supported by the State Audubon Society for the general instruction of California bird-enthusiasts. The ladies who are members of this society feel that they could not spend money to better use than by employing a woman to study their hobby.

It is the business of Miss Libby to visit all the schools of the State and win the good will and appreciation of children for their little feathered friends. Some of the women in Los Angeles and Pasadena who have been studying California birds are enumerating more than 700 distinct kinds of birds in this State.

In Arroyo Seco quail have become quite tame and are rapidly increasing in numbers. Recently, Miss Theodora Howells had the novel experience of seeing an entire covey of quails in her yard, which slopes into the Arroyo near the Santa Fe bridge, and at the same time a swarm of wild bees were cheerfully loading up her back porch.

Another of the Garvanza ladies interested in the study of the natural life about them, recently had the strange experience of seeing a gopher snake charm a wild quail upon her dogstep. This is particularly unusual when it is considered that twenty-three years ago this afternoon the Garvanza Literary Society held a meeting not a block from the place at which the Audubon society will meet today. This it is illustrated that while culture is so thick out Garvanza, way that a man could not throw a stick without hitting an artist of some sort, or a writer, nature has managed to survive, and still sustains many normal features.

POPULAR FREE LECTURES.

Large Number of Tourists Attend Them Daily at the Chamber of Commerce—New Schedule.

The free stereoscopic lectures at the Chamber of Commerce have proven the best possible advertisement for Southern California and Arizona. By actual count, during the last three days, 1250 people sat through the lectures and witnessed the pictures, and in order to better accommodate all who wish to attend, its tourist travel increases, a new schedule has been prepared and will go into effect at once, beginning at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. Wednesday and Friday; Los Angeles county, daily at 2 p. m.; Alameda county, daily at 2:30 p. m.; Pomona, daily at 3:30 p. m.; Redlands, daily at 3:30 p. m. Beginning January 1, the mainline illustrated course of lectures at the Chamber of Commerce will also be held.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MODEL VILLAGE STANDS ALONE.

MUST HAVE SEPARATE COMMISSION: WILL GET IT.

Plans of Friday Morning Club's Committee Explained to Council and a majority of Welfare Committee. Will Recommend Request. Twenty-acre site.

If the women who are furthering the plan for a model village, under the auspices of a committee from the Friday Morning Club, cannot have the project under official protection separate from the housing commission, they will have to abandon any dealings with the city.

This was the substance of what Mrs. Gustaf Egelhoff-Rundel, chairman of the committee, told the Council Public Welfare Committee, yesterday afternoon. She appeared to discuss the request made by her committee that the city permit the use of a large tract it owns north of Old Calvary Cemetery, near Yale street, for the building of the Model Village, which is to be a demonstration of how poor people may live well and cheaply.

The work of the Housing Commission is so different from "what we do," said Mrs. Rundel, "that we could not accept any arrangement that left it under that jurisdiction. The Housing Commission deals with old buildings, courts and the like, while we are planning a new demonstration with entirely new buildings. I do not detract from the work of the Housing Commission one whit, but the dissimilarity of purpose and method require absolutely separate management."

Chairman Stewart of the Welfare Committee disagreed with Mrs. Rundel. He said if the Housing Commission had been working with much self-sacrifice with old things he was unwilling to deny the members just what they want and the beautiful. He thought the Model Village plan an emanation of the Housing Commission's real purpose and earnest to it.

Councilmen Andrews and O'Brien differed with the chairman. Andrews thought the personal question of the women whose enthusiasm was behind the Model Village scheme would make for its success more surely than to transfer it to never hands. O'Brien expressed some ignorance as to what it would all lead to after a poor family had enjoyed the Model Village life and had to return to old conditions. But he was staunch for the experiment. A suggestion that the lot be owned by the Friday Morning Club in their own way without any commission was also rejected by Mrs. Rundel, who said they would not touch it unless it had official authority back of it. She proved a "stand-patter" on the separate commission idea. Chairman Stewart said he was sure the multiplicity of commissions was deranging real government and that he would not support the creation of any more.

Mrs. Rundel explained that it was possible to divide the lot, which is really a tract of twenty acres, into about 120 building lots and on each to erect a model house. They are to cost about $800 each and Councilman O'Brien estimated that an investment of from $30,000 to $40,000 will be necessary.

SILENT SYNDICATE.

WASHBURN IS ANXIOUS.

Chairman Washburn of the Council Finance Committee is a little anxious to know what the New York bond syndicate is going to do with the Council's proposition to invest $250,000 of bonds at once. The offer was wired to A. W. Bullard, San Francisco, representative of Kountze Bros. and A. B. Leach & Co., ten days ago, and receipt was acknowledged. Bullard said he would forward the proposal to New York. It was believed that he would be in New York last Monday, but Washburn learned yesterday that Bullard had not been to Gotham at all but had remained in Chicago, leaving last night for Boston. Washburn sent him a telegram, asking what was being done.

When the offer was made, the "solid five" had spent all the financial arrangements made by all the officials. It was predicted that the syndicate would not give it much attention soon, but it was not supposed it would be ignored as it seems to be. City officials believe it will be declined and then all aqueduct arrangements must wait until February 1, when the syndicate is to say whether it will take $4,500,000 of aqueduct bonds during 1911.

BRICKYARDS.

COUNCIL IN BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Corroborating the charges of Jerry Andrews in his declaration against the petitioners for the restriction of bicyclists, will have a chance to view a part of the Council, at least this morning, when a visit will be made to such members as can go to the brickyard sites.

President Lusk, who happens to be one of the "other deniers" of Boyle Heights, will accompany his colleagues in an effort to dissuade their minds of the ideas resulting from Andrews's speech.

and is intended to arm the Council when it is called on to determine whether the industries must move or whether they will be permitted to continue where they are situated for years. This is one of the important questions connected with the industrial district problem.

A new phase of the industrial problem developed yesterday when residents of Hollywood, in the neighborhood of the Sunset Flamingo street, filed a petition asking that the business be prevented from constructing additional buildings, with the exception of the lumber yards. The petitioners say any extension will depreciate their property value and adversely affect the region bounded by Sunset Boulevard, Highland, Fountain and Seward streets.

As the Council declined to order the condemnation of the land at Avenue 10 and the Sunset Flamingo street, occupied by the Montgomery-Mullin lumber company, that concern has asked the Council to consider its business in the residence district. It states that it has existed there for over six years.

Judge Wilbur declared, yesterday, that he would present charges against Chester Smith, an attorney, to the Grievance Committee of the local Bar Association, for alleged unprofessional conduct in the management of a branch of premises.

Charles E. Sumner brought an action yesterday against W. H. Allen, Jr., and Charles C. Porter, for $35,000, that represents an alleged indebtedness of the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone Company.

MODEL VILLAGE STANDS ALONE.

MUST HAVE SEPARATE COMMISSION: WILL GET IT.

Plans of Friday Morning Club's Committee Explained to Council and a majority of Welfare Committee. Will Recommend Request. Twenty-acre site.

If the women who are furthering the plan for a model village, under the auspices of a committee from the Friday Morning Club, cannot have the project under official protection separate from the housing commission, they will have to abandon any dealings with the city.

This was the substance of what Mrs. Gustaf Egelhoff-Rundel, chairman of the committee, told the Council Public Welfare Committee, yesterday afternoon. She appeared to discuss the request made by her committee that the city permit the use of a large tract it owns north of Old Calvary Cemetery, near Yale street, for the building of the Model Village, which is to be a demonstration of how poor people may live well and cheaply.

The work of the Housing Commission is so different from "what we do," said Mrs. Rundel, "that we could not accept any arrangement that left it under that jurisdiction. The Housing Commission deals with old buildings, courts and the like, while we are planning a new demonstration with entirely new buildings. I do not detract from the work of the Housing Commission one whit, but the dissimilarity of purpose and method require absolutely separate management."

Chairman Stewart of the Welfare Committee disagreed with Mrs. Rundel. He said if the Housing Commission had been working with much self-sacrifice with old things he was unwilling to deny the members just what they want and the beautiful. He thought the Model Village plan an emanation of the Housing Commission's real purpose and earnest to it.

Councilmen Andrews and O'Brien differed with the chairman. Andrews thought the personal question of the women whose enthusiasm was behind the Model Village scheme would make for its success more surely than to transfer it to never hands. O'Brien expressed some ignorance as to what it would all lead to after a poor family had enjoyed the Model Village life and had to return to old conditions. But he was staunch for the experiment. A suggestion that the lot be owned by the Friday Morning Club in their own way without any commission was also rejected by Mrs. Rundel, who said they would not touch it unless it had official authority back of it. She proved a "stand-patter" on the separate commission idea. Chairman Stewart said he was sure the multiplicity of commissions was deranging real government and that he would not support the creation of any more.

Mrs. Rundel explained that it was possible to divide the lot, which is really a tract of twenty acres, into about 120 building lots and on each to erect a model house. They are to cost about $800 each and Councilman O'Brien estimated that an investment of from $30,000 to $40,000 will be necessary.

SILENT SYNDICATE.

WASHBURN IS ANXIOUS.

Chairman Washburn of the Council Finance Committee is a little anxious to know what the New York bond syndicate is going to do with the Council's proposition to invest $250,000 of bonds at once. The offer was wired to A. W. Bullard, San Francisco, representative of Kountze Bros. and A. B. Leach & Co., ten days ago, and receipt was acknowledged. Bullard said he would forward the proposal to New York. It was believed that he would be in New York last Monday, but Washburn learned yesterday that Bullard had not been to Gotham at all but had remained in Chicago, leaving last night for Boston. Washburn sent him a telegram, asking what was being done.

When the offer was made, the "solid five" had spent all the financial arrangements made by all the officials. It was predicted that the syndicate would not give it much attention soon, but it was not supposed it would be ignored as it seems to be. City officials believe it will be declined and then all aqueduct arrangements must wait until February 1, when the syndicate is to say whether it will take $4,500,000 of aqueduct bonds during 1911.

BRICKYARDS.

COUNCIL IN BOYLE HEIGHTS.

Corroborating the charges of Jerry Andrews in his declaration against the petitioners for the restriction of bicyclists, will have a chance to view a part of the Council, at least this morning, when a visit will be made to such members as can go to the brickyard sites.

President Lusk, who happens to be one of the "other deniers" of Boyle Heights, will accompany his colleagues in an effort to dissuade their minds of the ideas resulting from Andrews's speech.

FRIDAY MORNING

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

DAILY BEAUTY HINT: To keep the complexion in good condition, it is essential to drink copious draughts of pure water daily. To secure the best effects water should be taken before retiring and immediately after rising, as well as during the day. It is as necessary to wash the inner parts of the body as to bathe the external parts and the results are even more obvious. If you are not certain of the quality of the drinking water it should be filtered or pure spring water should be purchased.

"If I were planning an entertainment for Christmas and wished to dress up as Santa Claus," said Elizabeth, "I would not picture him as he is in northern climates. I would dress in gauze, with a red and white striped hat, and place in his hand a small palm-leaf fan. Instead of high-heeled shoes I would use an arrangement of fairy wings from which I would suspend the beautiful Japanese high-heeled shoes. I would not have any high-heeled shoes. I would not have any high-heeled shoes. I would not have any high-heeled shoes."

A Household Convenience. There has been invented the most ingenious method of arranging for boiling potatoes. It is shaped like an inverted baking pan, only about three inches in width, and at intervals, cuts are made in the pan and the tin turns up like knife points. Upon these points the potatoes are impaled, and the steam is free circulation of hot air around the vegetables and an even temperature which precludes their burning, while the inclusion allows all steam to escape, making them moist. This household convenience will soon be placed upon the local market.

Christmas Bags. A lady who does things always in a way of her own, is making pretty bags in which to enclose most of her Christmas gifts. She has picked up, from time to time, pretty bits of silk, muslin or cretonne and from these she has made bags to fit each gift. As she says, "They cost little more than do boxes, ribbons and seals and they seem more valuable and are useful afterwards, since a bag of almost any size or shape comes in handy at some time."

Fashion's Glass. A girl who had a long black coat of handsome material, but which had been fashioned has just remodeled it in a way which rendered it truly stunning. She made new sleeves from black satin, adding four flaring cuffs of white bengaline, with tiny black rosettes here and there. Then she made from the skirt a wide cape-like collar and pointed hood, lining the latter with the white bengaline. The black rosettes were scattered over it. There is also a tie of the bengaline edged with the black rosettes.

A new note in trimming, which is exceedingly simple and yet giving an oriental tone of color to the clothes, is the use of curious old disks and old gold and silver ornaments.

Now and then you will see a gown in which the two sleeves are different. It is quite noticeable in the newest gowns that the belt is inconspicuous and apparently a part of the soft folds of the bodice, and yet a distinct line between the bodice and the skirt.

Coque feathers in white, tipped with colors, are quite popular on turbans. Big black velvet shawls are either trimmed with plumes or with huge bows of maline or venetian lace. In combining colors, the brighter shade is almost always veiled with the darker, and if a third color is introduced it is limited to the details of the dress, the sash, the embroidery or the bead trimming.

RAILS CROSS RAILS. Pacific Electric Line Extends Over That of the Santa Fe Near Claremont—Block Tower Being Erected.

CLAREMONT, Dec. 8.—The Pacific Electric today laid its rails across the Santa Fe Railroad just west of Claremont, and the ballast train crossed the tracks this afternoon. The last spike has now been driven, which connects Claremont with Upland and Ontario on the east and Pomona on the southwest.

In a few weeks the Southern Pacific Railway will be electrified between San Dimas and Pomona, and then Claremont will be in direct connection with the two great lines.

The overhead wires are being strung up rapidly, there being less than half a mile yet to complete the circuit. It is expected that within a few days the cars will be in operation.

A block tower is being erected at the Santa Fe crossing which will be built at the expense of the Pacific Electric and operated by that company in order to insure safety at what would otherwise be a very dangerous crossing.

COLDS AND MENTAL SUGGESTION.

New Theory Advanced a London Physician Regarding Slight Fits of Insomnia.

The "night and morning cold," or semi-insomnia, is the latest malady that hundreds of Londoners are suffering from at the present time, says a London dispatch to the Washington Post.

This curious complaint has been described by one well-known physician as a "half-hearted sort of influenza that does not seem to be able to make up its mind to get to business." Those who have suffered from it say it is only apparent during the early hours of the day and at night.

Dr. Forbes Winslow, the well-known London physician, gave a most interesting explanation of the "night and morning cold."

"If I went out without an overcoat by mistake," he said, "I should say to myself, 'Now I'm for a bad cold.' And sure enough in a short time I should begin to sneeze and cough violently. But if I did not have time to think of my missing overcoat there would be no danger at all of my sneezing and coughing fits. I had brought on by worrying about myself."

"It is just the same with the people who suffer from heavy colds in the morning and evening, and feel perfectly well during the rest of the day. It is only the effect of mind on matter. Men and women are too busy to think of themselves in the daytime, and in consequence their cold vanishes; but directly their mind is unoccupied, they begin to consider themselves again, they remember the cold and by the mental suggestion bring it on once more."

The Names of Place, or Race, Include

Maurice, Judith, Madeline, Lydia, Lavinia, Cyprien, Napoleon, Della, Cynthia, Sabrina, Sabina, Alma and Almira—Where Each of These Names Came From—The Warlike Men Who Made Maurice Famous. Famous Women of These Names Whose Fame Also Rests Upon War. Lydia Darrah, Who Once Saved the Continental Soldiers at Philadelphia. Almira means a woman of Almeida, in Andalusia, Spain. There is a Keltic name, Alma, meaning "all-good," and there is also an old Hebrew word, almah, meaning maiden. But most of the Almas of today were named in honor of the first victory of the French and English over the Russians in the Crimean war, which occurred on the river Alma. The river bears a Russian name.

BY FRANCES MARSHALL. Maurice, Cyprien and Napoleon, Judith, Madeline, Lydia, Lavinia, Della, Cynthia, Sabrina, Sabina, Alma and Almira are all so-called place or race names which were first given to commemorate the nationality or birthplace of the persons who bore them.

The first Judith for instance, was a Jewess, as her Hebrew name indicates, although the name is quite correctly used as the feminine of Judah. The first Madeline, or Madeline, was the Biblical Mary, who came from Magdala, the "City with a Watch Tower," as the name signifies in Hebrew.

Della was a Greek surname of Artemis, the Latin Diana—goddess of the moon, given to her because she was born in the island of Delos, and Cynthia was another of her Greek titles, because she sometimes dwelt on Mount Cynthus. The first Lydia was a woman who lived in one of the Greek cities of Lydia. The first man to bear the name of the great French general, Napoleon, was a Greek from some Neapolis, or "New City."

The first Maurice was a Moor, or Mauri, as the Romans called them, from a Greek word meaning "dark," meaning dim, twilight, or swarthy. Sabina was the Latin term for a Sabine woman; and St. Sabina, a noble matron martyred in the second century, was the wife of a Roman senator, and her husband, Constantine, was half-brother of Constantine the Great, and whose daughter was Catherine, witness the fact that the name was once popular. Lavinia was a woman of the Latin race, and was the daughter of the Roman king, and was married to the Greek king, Peleus, the father of the hero Achilles.

Maurice, the only name in this class popular today, gained its greatest fame, as did the daughter of the emperor, when he was crowned emperor in 987. He was emperor from 987 to 1024, and he was a good ruler, and held his realm together firmly together. In 1024 he was deposed and murdered by one of his generals.

In modern times three great fighting Maurices have borne their name to fame. The first of them was Maurice, prince of Orange, younger son of William the Silent, who was assassinated in 1584. Maurice was born in 1567, and was only seventeen when the people of the Netherlands chose him Stadtholder to succeed his father. Although the Dutch had been so attached to the "Father William," they were not disappointed in the son. He led them bravely and wisely to victory, in the struggle with Spain. He is reckoned one of the foremost generals of modern times.

John Maurice of Nassau-Siegen, known as Maurice of Nassau, was another great Dutch ruler and administrator. From 1637 to 1644 he was governor-general of the Dutch conquests for the Dutch, for Maurice not only fought all intruders, but gained new possessions for his country.

The third of this trio of modern fighters was Maurice of Saxony, a German count, generally called Maurice of Saxony. He was born in 1696, and served under Marlborough in the War of the Spanish Succession, and under Prince Eugene against the Turks, and was a soldier of worth and ability.

Morris K. Jessup, American philosopher and merchant, Maurice Hewlett, English novelist, author of the "Forest Lovers," and many other romances, and Maurice Maeterlinck, Belgian poet, who wrote "Pelléas and Mélisande," are also famous.

"Its nobility of tone is an inspiration to an artist. In the Melody-grand I have found the best piano I have ever heard."

Source of Kauri Gum.

Kauri gum, found underground in New Zealand, and dug to the amount of a million and a half yearly, is used chiefly for furniture polishes and varnishes, and most of it is exported to America. The industry of digging it is unlike any other in the world. A kauri forest is a beautiful sight, but kauri gum country is treeless, barren and desolate, even and swampy very often, with singularly heavy, cloying soil, out of which the gum formed on kauri pines of ancient and long-vanished forest is dug or speared. There are whole stretches of this treeless kauri country, with nothing but a little scrub and fern growing on it. It is very rough for riding about (the gumfields are too extensive to be seen except riding). Some of the gum diggers—about 300 in all—are Maoris, pleasant, friendly natives; some are British, and a certain number are Dalmatians.—[The Argonaut.]

Lincoln Phelps, sister of Emma Willard, school teacher, and writer of text-books.

Parties to Divorce Action Weep as Their Son Gives Valiant Testimony for His Father.

Little Randolph Finley, a student at the Vermont avenue school, was a witness for his father, in Judge Conroy's court yesterday, in the divorce action brought by the mother, Emily M. Finley. The couple are separated. The husband is living in this city and the wife in Santa Monica.

There was much opposition to the appearance of the boy on the part of counsel representing Mrs. Finley, but the court finally made an order to have the lad brought from his school to give his childish impressions of some things that happened in the Finley home.

The little fellow could hardly talk for crying, and it was noted that while he was on the stand that both parties to the complaint, though they stood at each other before the boy was sworn, melted into tears.

"The boy was a valiant defender of his father."

"Mamma called papa names and it hurt me so awfully," Judge Finley said between his fits of weeping. His testimony was a denial of the charge of coquetry on the part of the father so far as he knew. The little fellow insisted that "I just love my father. There was a mass of testimony and the conclusion of the hearing, Judge Conroy said he would file a written

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA. FOURTEENTH ANNUAL DINNER.

MERCHANTS OF CROWN CITY IN ANNUAL LOVE FEAST.

An Excellent Programme of Addresses Was Heard, in Which the Optimistic Note Was Sounded by Elusive Citizens—Col. Roosevelt Will Deliver Address at Thruway.

(Office of The Times, 25 S. Raymond Avenue.) PASADENA, Dec. 9.—The Fourteenth annual dinner of the Pasadena Merchants' Association, held last night at the Hotel Maryland, was attended by 400 storekeepers, their wives, sisters, mothers and friends. It was a happy gathering. Following the dinner an excellent programme of addresses was given.

The toastmaster of the evening, Dr. D. P. Fox, introduced the different speakers. In his opening address Dr. Fox told a number of funny stories and kept it going with some remarks suggested that he should join the "funny club." "When a man is all in and says there is nothing good in the world he is bad company for himself," said he. I am a great believer in the fact that this is the best day and age ever experienced in history.

The first toast was responded to by Robert B. Armstrong, who spoke of "Pasadena in Perpetuity." He is a devotee to the Crown City and told of the many things which should evolve in the city.

The next speaker was William S. Harbert, a prominent lawyer from Pasadena. He had for his subject "The Forward Movement," and took up the time allotted to him telling of the progress which the city and merchants' association should make.

W. W. O'Neil spoke of "A Suggestion," and Charles W. Bell had for his toast "The Ladies."

BIG CROWD HEARS RAND.

The first open air concert of the winter season was given by Walter Scholten's Crown City Band yesterday afternoon in Central Park before a crowd estimated at 3000. Every one present agreed that it was by far the best band concert which has been given in Pasadena for many years. Six of the players live in Pasadena, and nineteen in Los Angeles. Sixteen of the band members played in the Catalina band during the past summer. There were ten numbers on the programme, each one of which was enjoyed from one to three times. It was a contest concert and most of those present stated that Gregory's Italian Band will have "to go some" if it can put up a better brand of concert than that given yesterday afternoon.

Among those present were the society committee-women, Mayor Earley, Park Commissioner McCammet, members of the Council, and a large gathering of merchants and bankers. It was a fine turnout and every one was happy. At the conclusion of the concert each of the societies turned a state and that if the contract for the forty concerts are given to the Crown City Band that each should step up to play the entire series. "I am confident we will get the contract," said Walter Scholten, "because I would like to know where you can get better music than we have given here. Some of the men among the very best musicians in Los Angeles. I can say that I have the pick among the very best band men in Southern California."

"This just goes to show how the people like good band music," said Mayor Earley as he looked about over the vast throng. "I would have been here every day in the year. It would be the very best thing we could have, and I am certainly in favor of having a municipal band to be played by the year."

"I consider a municipal band employed by the year to give concerts in the parks every day an investment and not a luxury," said Ernest H. Lockwood. "Just think of the people here, and this is not a circumstance to what we would have every day if we had good first-class band music. I believe $25,000 or $30,000 expended for such a purpose would be money spent to the very best purpose."

"There is no question but that we need a municipal band," said L. H. Turner, of the Turner & Stevens Company and a director of the Board of Trade. "I will favor of having a band before the people at the spring election and I believe it will easily carry."

BRUSH FIRE IN MOUNTAINS.

A serious brush fire started yesterday forenoon in the mountain canyon back of the Sierra Villa just west of Sierra Madre, which for several hours looked as if it might sweep the entire side of the mountain and do great damage. Fortunately a good force of fire fighters was secured and after several hours had the flames under control. The fire started immediately behind the sanatorium and it is believed someone out walking dropped a lighted match in the dry leaves and grass. On account of lack of fall rains the mountain canyons are covered with a thick coat of dry weeds, grass and brush which enables the fire to spread very rapidly when once started. The forest rangers are taking every precaution, no smoke and hope the fall rains will soon set in which will put an end to the danger.

MARYLAND "SPEAK-EASY" CLOSING.

The Hotel Maryland "speak-easy" has been closed and is as "tight as a drum." In the future none but bona-fide guests of the hotel can get any drinkables and then only at the tables during meal hours. Armed with three warrants, sworn to by Chief of Police Wood, Detective Schultz yesterday noon went to the Maryland and placed W. M. Linnard, manager of the hotel, W. M. Spinks, secretary of the hotel

EXPOSURE OF COMMISSION FORM ARE ACTIVE.

Eminent Speakers to Be Engaged and a Campaign of "Education" Is Proposed—Women Goes Insane Over Religion at Long Beach and Is Committed to Asylum.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 8.—At a largely attended meeting of the Commission Government Club last night it was decided to appoint a committee to arrange for speakers for educational meetings on the subject, to get out a full membership of the club and a big representation of the public at large. The first speaker to be secured will be Mayor Hodghead of Berkeley and Dana Bartlett will follow at an early date.

The club spent three hours in discussion of the matter and decided to buy and remain so until the public has had every opportunity to look in to the merits of the commission form of government, convinced that ultimately it will meet the unanimous approval of every one. It seems to be pretty well settled that the recent opposition at a mass meeting held to determine whether an effort should be made before the next Legislature for the change of form, was not because of any objection to the proposed form but rather because its advocacy came from the "left" and not from the party in power.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Mrs. Susan Millard, who has become mentally unbalanced as the result of too much religious fanaticism, was sent to the County Hospital on insanity proceedings before Justice Underwood today.

At its meeting tomorrow night the City Council will ask for bids for city lighting for the year 1911. The present contract is with the Edison Company which supplies 250 arc lights at $5.00 each per month and for incandescents at the rate of 5 cents per kilowatt hour.

COL. ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK.

Dr. J. A. B. Scherer, president of Throop Institute, who is now in the East traveling about among the various eastern polytechnic institutions getting new ideas to be incorporated in his school, sent a telegram yesterday, stating that Col. Roosevelt had been secured to deliver a lecture in Pasadena some time in March. It will be one of the numbers on the regular Throop Lecture Course. The subject has not yet been announced.

POLO TOURNAMENT.

The Pasadena Polo Club announced yesterday that they will play a polo tournament held in Tournament Park during the last three days in December between the polo teams of Pasadena, Corona and Santa Barbara. The club expected that the two winning teams will play off the final match as one of the events of the polo tournament at the polo grounds, January 2.

Meeting in the First Methodist church yesterday and a committee composed of Mrs. Seward A. Simons, Mrs. John G. Elmer, Mrs. C. A. Wood, Mrs. Frank Luckey and Mrs. C. A. Mitchell were appointed to call a meeting within a month when a board of directors will be elected to take the matter in charge.

EXPOSURE OF COMMISSION FORM ARE ACTIVE.

LONG BEACH, Dec. 8.—At a largely attended meeting of the Commission Government Club last night it was decided to appoint a committee to arrange for speakers for educational meetings on the subject, to get out a full membership of the club and a big representation of the public at large. The first speaker to be secured will be Mayor Hodghead of Berkeley and Dana Bartlett will follow at an early date.

The club spent three hours in discussion of the matter and decided to buy and remain so until the public has had every opportunity to look in to the merits of the commission form of government, convinced that ultimately it will meet the unanimous approval of every one. It seems to be pretty well settled that the recent opposition at a mass meeting held to determine whether an effort should be made before the next Legislature for the change of form, was not because of any objection to the proposed form but rather because its advocacy came from the "left" and not from the party in power.

NEWS BRIEFS.

Mrs. Susan Millard, who has become mentally unbalanced as the result of too much religious fanaticism, was sent to the County Hospital on insanity proceedings before Justice Underwood today.

At its meeting tomorrow night the City Council will ask for bids for city lighting for the year 1911. The present contract is with the Edison Company which supplies 250 arc lights at $5.00 each per month and for incandescents at the rate of 5 cents per kilowatt hour.

COL. ROOSEVELT TO SPEAK.

Dr. J. A. B. Scherer, president of Throop Institute, who is now in the East traveling about among the various eastern polytechnic institutions getting new ideas to be incorporated in his school, sent a telegram yesterday, stating that Col. Roosevelt had been secured to deliver a lecture in Pasadena some time in March. It will be one of the numbers on the regular Throop Lecture Course. The subject has not yet been announced.

POLO TOURNAMENT.

The Pasadena Polo Club announced yesterday that they will play a polo tournament held in Tournament Park during the last three days in December between the polo teams of Pasadena, Corona and Santa Barbara. The club expected that the two winning teams will play off the final match as one of the events of the polo tournament at the polo grounds, January 2.

ARIZONA EDITOR
IN BAD TANGLE.Nine Libel Suits Confront
Writer at Tucson."Voice of the People" May Be Legally Hushed.Secures Change of Venue to Courts of Phoenix.

(Special Correspondence of The Times.)
TUCSON, (Ariz.) Dec. 7.—F. H. Highton, editor of the Voice of the People, will have nine criminal libel suits to defend when Chief Justice Kent at Phoenix gets time to hear the matter, which is going to him on change of venue. Highton's attorney has filed an estimate that about four days will be required for the trial of each of the cases, which are for alleged libels of Editor James Williams and Manager Allan Jaynes of the Tucson Citizen. The fact that Mr. Jaynes is also clerk of the District Court in Tucson has served to connect District Judge J. H. Campbell with the row.

Highton has sent a 400-word telegram to the Department of Justice demanding Judge Campbell's removal forthwith, alleging that the magistrate has been guilty of many offenses, including that of entering into a conspiracy against the defendant. Highton's bonds, on suggestion of Judge Kent, have been reduced to $500 on each charge and the water is therefore free of body.

In his application for change of venue it is stated that a fair trial cannot be had in Tucson, largely because of the organization of the Good Government League, wherein a number of members are claimed to have asserted that the interests of the city of Tucson require that there be no convictions for the dynamiting and incendiary outrages at the Tucson shops, where with certain malicious persons have undertaken to create sentiment against the defendant to the effect that he is responsible indirectly for the above-named conditions and that it would be for the benefit of the county if he could be driven out and the paper edited by him suppressed.

Excursion to Mexico.
An excursion of Tucson business men is being organized to visit cities of Mexico along the west-coast line in the interest of local trade. J. M. Ormsby, at the head of the organization, has stated that the excursion must be made this month, to be ahead of the Los Angeles Boosters' special train, which has been delayed till January 2.

Several Tucson merchants have the habit of hanging on their safes a notice plainly visible at night telling that the door is not locked and that nothing of value is within. One such safe, in the store of W. F. Kitter's Sons was searched Sunday night, after the watchman had been seized and had been bound and gagged with "wire." There was only a small money loss, though the clerk may have pneumonia through being left in night attire, tied to a post for four hours.

Big Ranch Sold.
The Canon ranch of 17,000 acres near Tucson has been sold by Milwaukee owners for $17,000 to a colony of Mormon farmers, already in possession. Fifty families will farm the land on a co-operative plan, supported by a local organization of capitalists. At least 600 acres will be planted to diverse crops this season.

Rifle clubs have been formed in the University of Arizona and Tucson High School. Application will be made to the War Department for the loan of Krag-Jorgensen rifles for the use of the National Guard. The National Guard range east of the city will be used. The city already has Civilian Rifle Club, in which the most active member is George J. Harkrue, formerly Surveyor General, a keen shot despite his eighty years.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS.

WANTS SLICE OF MILLIONS.

Tulare Would Not Be Left Out When the Big Sum Derived From Authorized Bond Sale is Spent.

TULARE, Dec. 8.—Tulare is going after a slice of the $15,000,000 which the State proposes to spend for highways through the San Joaquin Valley and at a specially called meeting of the Board of Trade held yesterday, the members of the commercial organization met with Assemblyman-elect Wylie to discuss ways and means of bringing the claims of the west side of the county to the attention of the Assembly at the next meeting in Sacramento.

Mr. Wylie stated that it is his desire to serve the best interests of the county as a whole and at the same time prevent any dispute between sections. To this end he advised, and his advice was followed, that a committee be appointed of three members of the board to meet in Visalia within a short time and at that time to consider the problem with other representatives of the county from the other leading communities.

While nothing definite was promised by the Assemblyman, it is understood that in case Tulare is not located on the direct route of the proposed highway, this city will be connected with it by means of a branch road.

CITY STARTS SUIT.
Suits have been brought by the city against the Williams & Young, owners of a tract of land near the western city limits to establish title to a bit of property which the city officials insist is a public highway, but which the owners of the property declare is a part of their lands and has never been properly platted as a public road.

This suit grew out of a petition for injunction which was filed by the owners of the land and which sought to prevent the city from the completion of portion of the lateral sewer system, one line of which ran down the disputed bit of property.
